Car Country Drive Temporarily Closed for Construction Mid- to Late-November

This email is to keep you apprised of the weekly progress on the Carlsbad Desalination Pipeline. Trench work is still underway on Cannon Road and is expected to reach Car Country Drive in mid- to late-November. At that time, construction crews will need to close the intersection. This closure will last up to 12 days and include weekend work. In coordination with the City of Carlsbad, the Project team opted for this closure to ensure the safety of the construction crew, minimize impacts to the area and efficiently move past Car Country Drive. During the closure, Car Country Drive can be accessed via Paseo Del Norte and appropriate signage will be in place to direct traffic. When work passes Car Country Drive, construction will then continue to travel east on Cannon Road through the fall.

Median removal, water main relocation and other preparatory work will also continue in the coming weeks along Cannon Road. Construction on Cannon Road is expected to be completed in December. Construction hours in Carlsbad will be from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

During construction, commuters may experience temporary lane closures, detours, reduced lane widths and equipment along Cannon Road. Drivers should use caution and allow more time to reach their destination.

We encourage you to share these emails with your employees and anyone who might be interested in work along the pipeline route within or adjacent to the Carlsbad Research Center. Construction updates will be shared on Facebook, Twitter and the Project website. To learn more about the Carlsbad Desalination Project, please visit www.carlsbaddesal.com.
